Against Ministry, Parliament

ASQUITH MASTER OF SITUATION

The great conspiracy against the Ministry, the Parliament act and home rule has failed. The week ends in an outburst of confident hope that the Irish cause is won, it's all over but the shouting, cables T. P. O'Connor, M. P. The Tories made rapid recovery by last Monday from their orgy of disorder of the previous week and met the House of Commons in a palpably subdued mood. Their action in allowing the third reading for the third time of the home rule bill without any attempt at further debate shows they now recognize the game is up. Everybody now realizes that in a few weeks the bill becomes the law of the land.

This produces an entirely new situation, the difficulties of which are much greater to the Tories than to the Liberals. The Tories have now to choose between two equally difficult alternatives. Either they will reject the amending bill and allow home rule to pass to the statute book without any concession, or they will table for the first time their own proposals of amendment. Thus the previous position between the Ministry and the Tories will be reversed, for while up to the present the Liberals have had to do all the bidding, the Tories now must try their hands at it. This brings them face to face with many embarrassments, and compels them also to make final surrender to the principle of home rule by a vote in the House of Commons. The second reading of the amending bill. The die is cast. The Tories must try to fight on, without considering any concession, hoping that when the Ministry is brought to face with threats of civil war in Ulster they will find the army mutinous and refusing to do its duty. If these tactics are adopted then the course of the Government is quite simple. First the Irish bill will be put on the statute book. Then in case of disorder some regulations will be ordered to go to Ulster unconditionally, and if these regulations will be ordered, and if they again refuse then the Ministry will accept the challenge and go to the country on the question of whether the army or Parliament shall govern England. Every Liberal believes that on that issue the Government will return with a crushing majority and will have a mandate to proceed immediately to the destruction of the present Tory army and the substitution of an army on democratic lines. But few people believe that it will come to this. It is equally certain that the Ulster Orange volunteers will not fight against the army, and it is more than doubtful if even the maddest Tory officer will dare to disobey orders.

O'Connor's forecast is that by the time we approach the amending bill the Tory leaders will be in a saner frame of mind and will accept the universal demand of all sane men in England that this struggle must end now and end in peace, not in civil war. Already a meeting, attended by Tories and Liberals, in Birmingham has protested against civil war and demanded a peaceful settlement. Meeting the extraordinary growth of the national volunteers produced a profound impression in England, dissipating the favorite doctrine of the Tories that southern Ireland has ceased to care about home rule and driving home the fact that other volunteers besides those in Ulster have to be faced if Ireland's hopes are to be dashed. The movement, begun so spontaneously and running over Ireland like a prairie fire, is about to be placed in a more regular form and the attitude of several Irish leaders will change from passive to active approval. This addition to forces already working for the movement will give such an enormous impetus that a few weeks may see a body of national volunteers twice the size of that in Ulster.

All these new forces tend to hold over anything serious until the fierce fighting begins over the amending bill. When it leaves the House of Lords it will contain Carsonite amendments which the Ministry and the Irish Nationalists must reject, and they will substitute such amendments as may save the face of the Orangemen and at the same time inflict no prejudice on the essential unity of Ireland. Then the House of Lords may try to veto its hand, and new haggling will commence until some formula finally evolves.

There will be a tough fight and hard haggling on all sides and rupture frequently may seem inevitable, but so many mighty forces, including the King, the army and public opinion, in England, will beset all parties and compel them to make a peace in which all will give something and take something. Carson still kept on blustering.

but he and everybody else knows that Asquith now is complete master of the situation.

JOHN MULLOY DEAD.

John M. Mulloy, for many years prominent in Catholic society circles, and one of Louisville's most enterprising citizens, died early Wednesday morning at his home, 2213 West Walnut street. For years he was recognized as one of the leading tea and coffee merchants of this section of the country, and his energy and integrity won for him a high standing in the business world. Mr. Mulloy had been in failing health for several months past, and until Bright's disease developed it was thought that he would recover. Active in the Ancient Order of Hibernians, the Knights of Columbus and the St. Vincent de Paul Society and a man who never refused an appeal for charity, his death will be mourned in all quarters of the city. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Catherine Mulloy; five children, John M. Jr., Thomas H., Austin, Bernard C. and Mary C. Mulloy; two sisters, Sister Mary Agnes, of the Sisters of Charity at Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. John J. Murphy, of this city, and a brother, Barney T. Mulloy, of New Albany. The funeral was held yesterday morning and was one of the largest ever witnessed at St. Charles church. Rev. Father Raffo, who was celebrant of the high mass of requiem, preached a feeling funeral discourse, in which he paid high tribute to the deceased and his exemplary life, which all might well follow.

ORPHAN SOCIETY.

A well attended and spirited meeting of Catholic gentlemen interested in the recently formed St. Vincent-St. Thomas Orphan Society was held Monday night in Bertrand Hall, when encouraging reports were received from a number of parishes. The laws that will govern the body were again read by Secretary, Dan Heaney, and soon proof copies will be ready for distribution, in order that all may know how the society will be governed and how its work is to be conducted. William T. McEgan presided and the clergy present were Rev. Father M. T. Melody and Rev. Francis O'Connor. The time of the meeting was largely devoted to formulating plans for the fourth of July picnic for the benefit of the orphans. Chairman Thomas Tarry stated what had been done thus far and outlined plans for some more active work, after which sub-committees were decided upon with the following gentlemen for chairmen: W. A. Link, M. A. Myer, George J. Wachtel, Dan Cronin, Edward J. Boesler, John J. Score, John J. Barry and Thomas Dolan. Thomas M. Ryan was named as Secretary of the General Committee. The next meeting will be held Monday night, in Bertrand Hall, to which the ladies and all friends of the orphans are invited.

ENTERTAIN OUR CARDINALS.

Rome dispatches say the American Cardinals have played an important part there, not only in religious ceremonies and Vatican functions, but also in society. They have been much entertained, with much competition to have them at luncheons, dinners and receptions. Cardinal Gibbons has been particularly popular. He appears even stronger than when he was there for the first time in 1911. His stay in Rome has been rendered more pleasant by the companionship of Bishop Dennis O'Connell, of Richmond. The Cardinal has as his secretary Father Louis R. Stickney, who speaks Italian fluently, having been a student in Rome. Cardinal Farinacci occupies the apartment reserved for sovereigns at the Hotel Bristol, so the Stars and Stripes wave over that structure. Father Thomas G. Carroll, who assists him, is helped in the large amount of business centered in the Cardinal by the octogenarian Mr. John Edwards, who was presented to the Pope as "the youngest priest of the Archdiocese of New York." Cardinal O'Connell is staying at the Hotel de Rousselle. His suite includes Mr. Michael Splain and Father Coppliker.

HOLY ROSARY EXERCISES.

The commencement exercises of Holy Rosary Academy will be held in Bertrand Hall next Friday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The academic graduates are Misses Marie Angeline Huber, Katherine Elizabeth O'Connell and Henrietta Marie O'Connell. The sub-graduates are Misses Rita Sullivan and Alma Katherine Keane, and the commercial graduates are Katherine Elizabeth Myers and Irene Philomena Hennessy. The feature of the evening will be the musical programme furnished by the Holy Rosary orchestra, composed as follows: First violins, Angela Huber, Rita Sullivan, Mildred Fihe, Margaret Gott; second violins, Loraine Murphy, Margaret Wagner, Mary E. Phelan; violincello, Catherine O'Connell, Henrietta Dempf; orchestra bells, Lillian Wilson; harmonium, Beatrice Cassidy; piano, Alma Keane.

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE.

For the first time in forty years there will be no commencement exercises at St. Joseph's College at Bardonia. The reason for this is that there have been symptoms of "smallpox" in that vicinity, and there fore the college authorities deem it best not to take any chances.

BRIGHT PROSPECT.

With 1,056 more students preparing for the priesthood last year than the year previous, and 28 more parish schools with an increased enrollment of 139,353 pupils, the future of Catholicity in this country is certainly rich in brilliant prospects.

FATHER BOES' NEW CHURCH AT PEWEE VALLEY.

DEDICATION

A Great Ecclesiastical Event For Pewee Valley on Sunday,
June 21.

Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue
Will Bless Father Boes'
New Church.

One of the Handsomest Church
Edifices in the Louisville Diocese.

SERMON BY REV. FATHER RAFFO

A great ecclesiastical event in the diocese of Louisville will take place on the feast of St. Aloysius, Sunday morning, June 21, at 10:30 o'clock, when the new and handsome church just erected by the Rev. Father Edward W. Boes at Pewee Valley will be dedicated with the solemn and impressive ceremonial of the Catholic church.

The structure, designed by the well known architect, C. A. Curtin, of Louisville, assisted by Father Boes, the pastor, is of Tudor Gothic style and built of broken ashlar of Bedford buffstone, trimmed with Bedford buffstone, and is considered to be one of the handsomest churches in the State of Kentucky. Upon each side are towers much like those seen on many churches in Ireland, the apex in the center being surmounted by a cross of imposing dimensions. The exterior dimensions are 90x33 feet, and the church, which is so constructed that it may be easily enlarged, has a seating capacity of approximately 250 people.

The dedicatory services will begin promptly at 10:30 o'clock with the blessing of the church by the Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue, Bishop of Louisville, and will be immediately followed by a solemn high mass, of which the reverend pastor, Father Boes, will be the celebrant, assisted by a number of visiting clergymen. The Rev. Charles P. Raffo, of St. Charles Borromeo church, this city, will preach the sermon. Members of the choir of St. Boniface church will sing the "Mass of the Blessed Virgin," by the Rev. Ignatius Wilkins, O. F. M., with Leo Fritsch presiding at the organ. Immediately after the mass the Right Reverend Bishop will administer the sacrament of confirmation to a class of twelve.

At the solemn Levitical vespers in the evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be a sermon, and "Wiegand's Vespers" will be sung under the direction of Prof. Anthony Molendraft, with Mrs. Molegraft presiding at the organ. Monday morning, June 22, there will be a solemn commemoration of the dead. The solemn requiem will be sung by the Rev. Father Boes, and the musical programme will be rendered by members of the Confraternity Singing Society of this city. Mrs. J. J. Mueller presiding at the organ. Every pastor has the ambition of erecting a church, no matter how difficult the undertaking, and therefore Father Boes has reason to feel a great pride over the realization of his cherished hope, for which he has labored long and arduously. Besides his charge at Pewee Valley this good priest has ministered to several country missions, and therefore his great accomplishment, the erection of a house of God that will stand for untold generations to come, is regarded as nothing less than phenomenal. Already nearly all the stained windows have been provided for as well as the beautiful sanctuary lamp and other furnishings. The altars are works of art and the sanctuary so arranged as to be suitably decorated and brilliantly illuminated whenever occasion requires. Since becoming pastor at Pewee Valley Father Boes has endeared himself to his flock, and with him they will rejoice in the dedication of an edifice that will for years stand a monument to their love of God and country.

Special interurban cars will very likely be run from the station on Green street, between Third and Fourth, for the accommodation of residents of the city, who can return at almost any time they desire. All that remains to insure a great gathering is favorable weather.

RECENT DEATHS.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kolros, wife of Dominick Kolros and a member of St. Martin's church since the organization of the parish, died Sunday night at her home, 827 East Gray street. Besides her husband she leaves two daughters and one son. Her funeral was held Wednesday morning, attended by many old friends.

A sad bereavement came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nolan in the death of their seventeen-month-old son, M. J. Nolan, who died Sunday morning while visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Breaugh, 2314 West Chestnut street. The little fellow was beloved by a host of relatives and friends, and his death leaves a void in the hearts of his parents which can never be replaced. The funeral was held from St. Charles church, the interment being in St. Louis cemetery.

Monday morning the last sad rites over the remains of Mrs. Jaane Dunn McCrory were held at St. John's church, Rev. Father Schumann officiating at the high mass of requiem. The deceased was the widow of the late John McCrory, for years a member of the Louisville fire department, and her womanly virtues won for her the love and esteem of all, as was attested by the attendance at her funeral. Mrs. McCrory leaves two daughters, whose many friends extend to them their heartfelt sympathy.

The death of Thomas J. Keeley last Saturday morning brought deep grief to his legion of friends and relatives throughout the city. For forty-seven years he had been with the Carter Dry Goods Company, and his good nature made everyone his friend. His death was due to stomach trouble, which for some time had confined him to his home, 614 South Twentieth street. Surviving him are one daughter and two sons. The funeral was held Monday morning from St. Charles church, Rev. Father Raffo celebrating the requiem mass.

Sunday morning death claimed Charles A. Ross, for many years connected with the Louisville police department and widely known as a detective. He had been ill for four months, and just before passing away had his family affectionately farewell. His funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Church of Our Lady, the Rev. Father Cronin celebrating the solemn requiem mass. The pallbearers were Nicholas Warren, Edward McElliot, Dave Scanlon, William F. Bott, Patrick Sharkey, Martin Donahue, George Heise and Louis Vent. At the age of nineteen Mr. Ross married Miss Mary E. Hillerich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hillerich, of this city. Nine children were born, all of whom survive. They are James W., Leo, Charles, Mrs. Bertha Lloyd, Mrs. Mamma Baker, Misses Lilly, Theresa and Carrie Ross, of this city, and Benjamin Ross, of St. Louis.

FIRST OFFICIAL VISIT.

Mother Rose, Mother General of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, whose headquarters are at Nazareth, this State, was a recent visitor at St. Vincent's infirmary at Little Rock, this being her first visit to the Arkansas institution since her appointment more than two years ago. The Southern Guardian says Mother Rose was indeed a most charming and welcome guest at St. Vincent's and was more than delighted with the infirmary and the way it is being conducted by Sister Martina and those associated with her in the work of caring for the sick and afflicted. Sister Martina is traveling with Mother Rose on her tour of visitations.

INTO HOME

The Hibernians Now Own Splendid Quarters in the West End.

Formal Dedication Will Be Conducted by Vicar General Cronin.

Crowded With Enthusiastic Members at Meeting Monday Night.

THE MEN WHO DID THE WORK

It was certainly an inspiring sight to the writer to stand Monday night in the alcove on the second floor of the new home of Division 3, A. O. H., at Eighteenth and Portland, and watch the steady course of members coming up the broad walk that leads from the avenue through the beautiful lawn and terminating at the front portals of one of the finest Hibernian club houses in this section of the country. As a member after member crossed the threshold one could see by the light of the electric globes on each side of the main entrance a broad smile of approval and enthusiasm on the face of every one. And the smile grew broader and the enthusiasm increased as they walked through the large and tastefully decorated reception hall and then through the library, pool room and snooker-rooms in succession. But the smiles were broadest and the enthusiasm seemed to have reached the limit when they stepped into the handsomely furnished meeting hall. The beautiful meeting room was crowded with enthusiastic members to attend the first meeting of Division 3 in its own quarters, and many were heard to exclaim that with home rule for Ireland and a magnificent home for Louisville Hibernians it was indeed a glorious day for the sons of Erin.

President Mulnoey called the meeting to order, opening the proceedings with prayer, all joining with him in the invocation for the success of the members and the new home. Thomas W. Killen had the honor of being the first member to be obligated in the new home. The Membership Committee reported favorably on three applications and four more candidates were proposed for membership.

The special committee on dedication of the building announced that the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., County Chaplain of the order, had consented to be present on the afternoon of Sunday, June 14, and conduct the dedicatory ceremonies. The addresses will be delivered by Edward J. O'Brien, a member of Division 3; State President Patrick J. Welsh, County President William J. Connelly and others. The committee stated that all the plans were not yet completed, but that they expected to be able to announce the full programme by the first of next week.

The improvements have made of the building a most imposing structure, and its commanding location will attract the attention of all who pass that way. It is not only a credit to the West End, but to the entire city, and for which the Hibernians are largely indebted to the indefatigable work and loyalty of ex-National Director George J. Butler, President John M. Mulnoey, Thomas A. Quinn, Charles Boyle, Matt O'Brien, John Riley and William Silk. A column or more could be given to a description of the different rooms and their furnishings, but a pencil sketch would not convey the slightest idea of their beauty, which all will concede on the day of the dedication, June 14. Tuesday night a large lotto and supper party assembled on the lawn in front of the building, and on Wednesday night the County Board occupied the home, and on all sides were heard words of approval and commendation of the work of this excellent division of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The programme of the dedicatory exercises will be given in our next issue.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES.

The twelfth biennial convention of the Catholics Knights and Ladies of America, held last week in Indianapolis, was satisfactory and successful and the 200 delegates returned to their branches confident of the future of the order, which has paid $2,225,000 in benefits. President Marr and Secretary Hayes submitted their reports, showing the order in sound financial condition with a surplus of over $35,000 in the treasury. There were 164 branches represented, Louisville sending one of the largest delegations, and being given two important offices. The following were elected officers for the next two years:

President—C. H. Marr, Wyandotte, Mich.
Vice President—Mrs. M. E. Henry-Ruffin, Mobile, Ala.
Secretary—Henry F. O'Keefe, St. Louis.
Counsel—Fred J. Crowley, Chicago.
Medical Director—Dr. Charles Edelen, Louisville.
Spiritual Adviser—Rev. Charles P. Raffo, Louisville.

FATHER FALLON.

The Rev. John D. Fallon, one of Louisville's most popular sons, who will celebrate his first mass tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at St. John's, the church in which he received his first communion and was confirmed, was the first child baptized in the parish of St. Francis of Rome by the Rev. Thomas White after he had organized his new congregation in Clifton. Acting as godfather on that occasion was his cousin, then a boy twelve years of age, now the Rev. John D. Kalaher, pastor of St. Columba's church, who will deliver the sermon at the first mass of his reverend godson next Sunday. The other priests who will take part in the ceremony of the mass were also members of St. John's congregation and received their religious instruction and first communion from the venerable Father Bax. They are the Rev. M. Melody, chaplain of St. Vincent Orphan Asylum, who will be the assistant priest; the Rev. John Hill, pastor of St. Ann's, who will be deacon; the Rev. Francis A. O'Connor, assistant at St. Cecilia's, who will be sub-deacon, and the Rev. George M. Connor, pastor of St. William's, who will act as master of ceremonies. There will doubtless be present a large gathering of the relatives and friends of the young priest, all eager to receive his blessing. Father Fallon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Fallon.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS' EXCURSION.

Interest in the excursion to Haverhill, Cannelton and Tell City, on Sunday, June 21, under the auspices of the Catholic Knights of America, is becoming widespread throughout the Falls Cities, and indications point to one of the largest that ever left the city. President Ben Kruse and the local committees are arranging for a most enjoyable trip, and at Tell City arrangements are being made for a rousing reception of the excursionists. With the jubilee exercises, the institution of the military company and the Louisville Uniform rank in full strength, it will be a gala day at Tell City. The train will leave the Tenth-street station at 7:45 in the morning, arriving back in time to coalesce with the street cars for all parts of the city. The full fare will be only $1.65, and an ample supply of refreshments will be provided in addition to the big dinner to be served at Tell City.

FIREMEN'S MEMORIAL.

A memorial service in memory of the thirty-two members of the Fire Department of New York City who have died since last Memorial day were held Sunday afternoon at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Fifth avenue and Fifty-fifth street. Preceding the services there was a parade of from 750 to 1,000 firemen from Broadway and Fifty-eighth street to the Cathedral. They were led by the firemen's band and Engine Company No. 23. The participating members were met at the entrance to the Cathedral by the Right Rev. Mgr. J. Lavelle. After musical vespers Mgr. Lavelle delivered an address of welcome. The Rev. Father Vincent De Paul McGeehan, chaplain of the Fire Department, then delivered the memorial sermon.

SLIGHTLY IMPROVED.

Throughout the diocese and State there will be rejoicing over the news that the Very Rev. Father Edward D. Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Paul's church at Owensboro, who has been critically ill at St. Joseph's infirmary, this city, since May 25, was reported slightly improved Thursday afternoon. Father Fitzgerald has been an indefatigable worker, and this is largely the cause of his breakdown. All who have the good fortune to know him will pray for his recovery.

GOING TO TEXAS.

Thomas W. Tarry, for years a prominent figure in T. P. A. circles, leaves today for Houston, Texas, as a representative of Kentucky in the national convention to be held there next week. He will be absent from the city for at least ten days. It is hinted that he may be chosen one of the officers of the national body.

CAMDEN

A Strong Annex to the McCreary
Race For United States Senator.

Harry Beckham Clique Vainly
Trying to Stem the Waning Tide.

Lieut. Gov. McDermott the Logical Candidate For Governor
Next Year.

CONGRESSMAN SHERLEY BETTER

A remarkable change in the race for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator was noted this past week. The appointment of Johnsoa N. Camden to fill the unexpired term of Senator Bradley, and his indication to be a candidate for the short term, has made quite a difference even in the views of the country editors who had been loudly clamoring for Beckham, they now being loud in their praise of Senator Camden and at the same time commend Gov. McCreary for his good judgment in the appointment. This practically means a combination of Senator Camden and Gov. McCreary for the short and long term respectively, and has checked the loud boasts of the Beckham adherents about claiming everything in sight when the primary date rolls around. Furthermore, the latter's wily manager, Percy Haley, after gum-shoel around this section, has established a Beckham headquarters at the Seaback Hotel, with Robert Phillips in charge of the propaganda every method to stop the tidal wave set in against the Beckham candidacy.

With Senator Camden drawing the country vote, Gov. McCreary drawing the old soldiers' vote, and the strength of the city being totally against Beckham, because of doubt in the sincerity of his principles and platform, all combined being sure to keep Percy and Cripps laying awake at night despite the daily claims of the Evening Post that its favorite candidate is being warmly welcomed throughout the State.

Another cause of the Beckham loss of strength is the announced termination of the Republicans and Bull Moosers to get together, nominating a Bull Moose for the short term and an old-line Republican, like Willis or Richard Ernst, for the long term. This ending to the long time away from Beckham, not caring to risk losing a Senatorship to the party by selecting a candidate who would be weak in the general election.

The selection of Mr. Camden for Senator also eliminates him as a prospective candidate for Governor, the field in the race now narrowing down to Lieut. Gov. McDermott, Auditor Bosworth, Attorney General Garnett and Agricultural Commissioner Newman, the last named only being considered as a remote possibility, and he is now making his last stand in an attempt to use his office and its powers to sway the farmers' vote, which is never united, and in addition he is sure to receive the hearty opposition of union labor because of his course in the Sand matter, for which he was denounced at the last meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Labor. Another blow to Newman's prospects is that the Haldean papers have grown lukewarm in their feeling toward him, and it is now a certainty that they are casting about for another candidate, Newman making too many mistakes to suit, even his most ardent supporters.

In the opinion of many Lieut. Gov. McDermott is considered as the logical candidate, his splendid services as presiding officer in the Senate, his settlement of the Lexington street car strike and his willingness at all times to devote his time and services for the advancement of any worthy enterprise or cause, has made him a national figure and credit to the State. On the other hand Auditor Bosworth is serving four years at an annual salary of $3,600, Attorney General Garnett four years at $4,000 annually, and Commissioner Newman four years at $2,500, in addition to what he has received by assessment of his employees, as was shown in the case of former Labor Inspector Sand, investigated by the labor officials. In direct contrast to these, Lieut. Gov. McDermott only receives $600 every two years when presiding over the Senate.

Congressman Swager Sherley is fast recovering from his recent illness and is expected to make his formal announcement for the Democratic nomination in the next few days, for which he will have no opposition. Very little interest is being shown by either the Bull Moose or Republican leaders in November, and if it wasn't for the position on the official ballot Mr. Sherley would be unopposed in November. His private Secretary, Joseph P. Hines, who has absorbed a great deal of national politics this congressional session, is expected home in a few weeks to add the finishing touches to Congressman Sherley's walk-over race in the primary.

COLEBURN WEDDING.

Miss Etta Thomas, of Louisville, and Anthony Davis, of Tip Top, will be married June 10 at St. Paul's church, Coleburn, and Mrs. R. C. Ruff officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will leave for Chicago and Milwaukee on a visit.

WORDS THAT CHEER.

Every now and then the Kentucky Irish American receives words that encourage and make happy all connected with its publication, words that show that our efforts are appreciated. Here are extracts from two letters received this week, the first from a widely known priest of this diocese, and the latter from a prominent business man out in the State:

Hodgenville, Ky., June 1, 1914.—Editor Kentucky Irish American—Dear Sir: Enclosed find one dollar in payment of my subscription to the Kentucky Irish American for twelve months. I am not a full-blooded Irishman, all the same I like your paper, and every Catholic, whether Irish, Belgian, American or even German, should have it in the family. Very sincerely, Elizabethtown, Ky., May 30, 1914.—Editor Kentucky Irish American—Dear Sir: Enclosed find one dollar in payment for paper during ensuing year. Pardon me for not remitting sooner, as the Kentucky Irish American and I are close friends and I would feel lost without it. Wishing you great success with your paper, I remain your friend.

HIDES FACTS.

The following is taken from the Western Recorder, a local Baptist organ, which is ever ready to vent its spleen upon anything Catholic: "We feel assured that few of our people realize the degree of subversivity of a large number of our daily papers to Papal opinion. It is a fact, and the rank and file may as well know it first as last, that the columns of many of our secular papers are no longer open to anti-Catholic views. During the last few months a number of Protestant speakers have been beaten and wounded by Catholic mobs, yet but little or no notice has appeared in the press dispatches of these outrages. Surely it should be a matter of news and comment when, in this land of supposedly free speech, a speaker should be knocked down while delivering a patriotic address, or left naked and wounded to die by the roadside."

The above is a sample of the narrow and one-sided views usually portrayed in the Recorder, the editor failing to state that the men assaulted were ex-Priest Crowley and the Rev. Dr. Spurgeon, both of unsavory reputation, who were assaulted not for their patriotic views as expressed by our Baptist editor, but for low and vile insults of our Catholic nuns by their indignant relatives and friends, and the question arises, how long would some of the Baptist brethren stand idly by and listen to such defamation of those near and dear by renegades looking for easy money.

CAUSES FOR UNREST.

The organs of monopoly are very much exercised because the great labor organizations demand to be exempt from the operation of the anti-trust law. It is one of the agreeable delusions of monopolists that labor is only a commodity, deserving to be ranked with machinery or dry goods, or other products of men's artifice. It never occurs to them that it is the result of active forces in sentient beings who "can not add to their stature one cubit," but who have nevertheless a lively sense of their own dignity. To put labor on the same legal plane with other commodities is certainly to take from the dignity of labor. This policy could not be otherwise than dangerous to the public welfare. Indeed it may be safely said that nine-tenths of the unrest in the industrial world is due to the blindness of those employers who persist in considering their workmen as but so many beasts of burden to be urged on or flung aside at will. It is about time that these employers were brought to a sense of their duty. It is time to make them understand that they own their wealth and power to the good will of the people, and that the people can take away what they gave in the turn of a hand. The Manufacturers' Association has waked up to this fact, and now it proposes to organize unions which shall include employer and employee. It is a good move, and it is a pity it was not made at an earlier stage of the industrial warfare. It would have been the means of saving many lives and much property to the nation.

TEACH THEM.

A provincial and narrow person is often broadened by travel. There are large classes of non-Catholics who, though of average information on current topics, are dreadfully narrow and provincial on all things relating to the Catholic church. It is a big subject, but it is the one subject they seem to have never thought to study as they would, for instance, a current topic like the Mexican war. Their inherited traditions, bazy and emotional and sometimes perverse, they deem all-sufficient. The Catholic makes a mistake in becoming impatient with this attitude. If you meet the man who knows not, teach him; but much more if you meet the man who thinks he knows and knows not, teach him also. But do it kindly, with patience, with good will, without ridicule and especially without resentment.

WILL SURELY HURT.

Loyal American statesmen are not for upholding British inventions that would retard our progress and prosperity. A proposition sufficiently clear, that broad minded business men not spiritually blind can see into, is the British Panama canal scheme. If under the circumstances the independent control of the Panama canal is repealed, as England wants, our title is tampered with and the spirit of the Monroe doctrine practically relinquished. Why should either he tampered with or jeopardized? The repealers should realize the dangers that threaten and will surely follow concessions made for England, the most subtle enemy this country has.

PERSECUTION.

In the revival of persecution being made on Catholics and their church all over the country by vile papers, reprobate preachers, secret societies and "patriotic" organizations, they must, first of all, put their trust in God. Him they serve. His religion they hold. His church they are. They must get closer to Him by a more forceful co-operation with his grace, and they must pray to Him to give them peace. Then Catholics should continue to give good example and so live that the lies told by their enemies will not be believed.

HOPE FOR CHARM.

Rev. M. P. Hunt, the local preacher, whose chief claim to fame is denunciation of Catholics, and who is the special pet of the Junior Order boys, has received a call to go to Arkansas, one of our daily papers remarking that this would be his third call away from Louisville, and which we all sincerely hope will be the charm.

The amount of tax assessed against Louisville and Jefferson county is $1,024,454, nearly one-fourth of the amount paid by the entire State. Despite this fact Louisville cuts but small figure when the Legislature meets and receives but little recognition.

We congratulate the Minneapolis Irish Standard on the excellence of its Pro-Cathedral number, the largest it ever issued and containing 100 pages. The editors and publishers certainly have cause for rejoicing, as have also the Catholics of Minneapolis.

The British Government will not participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco. Another evidence showing her "friendship" for the United States. What say the "hundred years' peace" advocates now?

On Tuesday Pope Pius X. was seventy-nine years old and Archbishop John Lancaster Spalding seventy-four. Upon both poured in messages of congratulation from all over the world.

SACRED HEART CHURCH.

Tomorrow will be a happy day for parents and children of the Sacred Heart parish, when at the mass in the morning a large class of little ones will receive their first holy communion from the hands of their pastor, the Rev. Patrick Walsh, who has devoted months to their preparation for this momentous occasion. During the afternoon the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donnoghue will make an official visitation to the Sacred Heart church and administer the sacrament of confirmation.

JOIN THE NAVY.

Edward J. McGinty and John T. Cary, both of whom reside on Rowan street and have a wide acquaintance in the West End, joined the United States navy this week. They will soon leave for duty.

FORTY YEARS.

Forty years! Forty years!
In the priesthood I have trod!
Forty years! Forty years!
I have loved and served my God.

Forty years! Forty years!
At the altar I have stood;
Forty years! Forty years!
As Mary did by holy Rood.

Forty years! Ruby years!
Oh! how swiftly they have flown;
Soon I'll reap the harvest now—
Reap the harvest I have sown.

Forty years! Ruby years!
How I love upon thy chain
To count today with God alone
My beads of joy, my beads of pain.

Forty years! Ruby years!
Grant, oh Lord, that they may be
Forty years! Ruby years!
Full of merit in heaven for me.

Forty years! Ruby years!
The winter rains are almost o'er,
With God, my love, I hope to be In endless bliss for evermore.
Rev. G. A. Vantroostenbergh.

SOCIETY.

Fred Harig arrived home last Friday from a two weeks' stay in New York.

Mrs. M. Davern, of Parkview, had as a guest last week Mrs. Will Carriaco.

Miss Vivian Canary has returned from a visit to Miss Sarah Hill at Lebanon.

Miss Adelaide Crush left last week for a ten days' visit with Mrs. J. H. Spalding in Indianapolis.

Miss Mary and Helen Duple, popular Jeffersonville girls, are in Cincinnati visiting friends.

Mrs. Joseph J. McCloskey has gone to New York to visit her son, John McCloskey, for the month of June.

Miss Mildred Gray, Crescent Hill, has been entertaining as her guest Miss Ethel Newman, of Bardstown.

Miss Ada Kavanaugh, of Portland, spent last week at Parkview, where she visited Mrs. G. B. Kysar.

Mrs. Lawrence Donahue, of South Louisville, is home after a two weeks' visit to relatives at Covington.

Miss Margaret Moran, of Portland, will spend the summer with her aunt, Mrs. John Clayton, in Cincinnati.

Miss Amelia Best, who was the guest of Mrs. Charles Fitzgerald, returned Wednesday to her home in New Albany.

Miss Frances Penn, of New Albany, has been spending the week here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill.

The many friends of Mrs. Fred T. Heffernan will be sorry to learn of her illness, which confined her to her home this past week.

Mrs. William Malone and children, of Lexington, have been here for a visit with her parents, Dr. L. R. and Mrs. Veach, in South Louisville.

Mrs. John Malone and family, of the Highlands, will leave soon to spend the summer at Bay View, Mich., where they have a cottage.

Miss Rosealine Cowan, of Hamilton, Ohio, will arrive Monday to be the guest of Miss Jeanette Dannenbold at her home on Cherokee drive.

One of the June weddings of much interest in Jeffersonville society circles is that of Miss Marie Davis and Homer Gibbs, which takes place June 24.

Misses Lillian Clegg and Marie Coggeshall and Roger Dougherty have returned from West Point, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Coggeshall.

Miss Edith Malone left Sunday for New York, and will attend the commencement exercises at Manhattanville, where her sister, Miss Mary Malone, will be a graduate.

Thomas Mullane and Miss Helen Goss were united in marriage the first of the week. Both are well known and popular and the best wishes of a legion of friends follow them into their new life.

Miss Rosa M. Ringley and Frank J. Renn, well known and popular residents of New Albany, were united in marriage Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church, Rev. Father Selbert performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O'Hern, 219 Indiana avenue, Jeffersonville, have announced the engagement of their popular and accomplished daughter, Miss Sarah O'Hern, to John Kennedy, a well known young man of that city.

Mrs. Gus Brets and niece, Miss Lillian Score, went to Memphis Monday to attend the closing exercises of St. Agnes Academy, where Miss Myrtle Score is a pupil and Sister Mary Plus, a sister of Mrs. Brets, is Superior.

Miss Marie Relling, who has been visiting in Lexington, the guest of Miss Hillemeier, has received much social attention there. Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hillemeier entertained about 150 guests at a barn dance in her honor.

Adam Bischof and bride, who was Miss Julia Metcalf, will be home the first of next week from the East, where they have been spending their honeymoon. Their marriage took place at St. Paul's church on Wednesday of last week, Rev. Father Thomas York performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Kraft, of New Albany, were in St. Louis last week attending the commencement

League still continues to be a close fight for first honors, and this is expected to continue for a few weeks, when all of the leaders will have met each other, the first of these contests being tomorrow, when the Bruins and Olympics clash for the first time, but the Champions have an easier task, meeting the K.
of C. team, which at present is composed of some of the old guard, and need a few games to get limbered up.
The Trinity team showed a big improvement last Sunday and will meet the Shamrocks tomorrow, which will be a good tryout, the latter team playing the Champions a close game last Sunday. The fast coming Mackin crowd will meet the Imperials and both Capt. Thornton and Capt.

ORPHANS' PICNIC.A general meeting of both men and women from all the Catholic parishes of the city has been called for Monday night, June 8, at St.
Louis Bertrand Hall to perfect arrangements for the orphans' picnic.
This picnic will be given July 4 on the grounds of St. Vincent's Orphanage in Crescent Hill. Payne and Cavewood. It is urged by those who have the picnic in charge that all who are interested in the orphans will attend this important meeting and lend their aid to this work, as the time is short and the work great. This notice is an invitation to all workers, both men and women, to attend this meeting.SUCCESSFUL INITIATION.Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, had a most successful initiation last Sunday afternoon, when the honors of Knighthood were conferred on a large class of candidates. The ceremonies occupied the entire afternoon and were conducted with a most enjoyable banquet at the Louisville Hotel. This will be the last initiation until fall, when another large class will seek admission. Louisville Council now ranks among the foremost in this country.NINETY-SECOND ANNUAL.The ninety-second annual commencement of St. Catherine of Sienna Academy, near Springfield, will take place on the morning of June 16, and a large and representative attendance is anticipated. The graduates are Misses Mary Alma Abell, Marie Dannon, Anna Mac
Kearns and Martha Thoma Moore, and commercial graduates, Misses Margaret Louise Cotton, Mary Hattie
Thompson and Margaret Estelle Willett. Following the closing exercises the alumnae will have their meeting and banquet. A splendid programme has been arranged, and all members are requested to attend to renew the friendships of girlhood days and take an interest in the welfare of their loved alma mater.COVINGTON.Lieut. Gov. Edward J. McDermott was met at the L. and N. passenger depot in Covington last Wednesday by Mayor George E. Phillips, City Commissioners, several prominent citizens and a squad of police and escorted to Diamond Grove Park, where he made an address at the annual outing of St. Patrick's church.
At the platform of the depot he was met by members of the Newport Academy of Eagles and presented with Members Here and Elsewhere.Massachusetts has 140 councils, a gain of two for the year.The new council at Hanover, Kas., starts with thirty-four members.Pere Marquette Council turned out about 600 strong in the Memorial day parade at Milwaukee.When the new council was instituted at Salem, Ore., sixty-seven candidates received their first degree.The Colorado State convention made a generous donation to the boys' band of St. Vincent's Orphanage, Denver.Forty-two candidates initiated at Decatur, fifty at Bedford and thirty at Elkhart, mark the activity now prevalent in Indiana.The fourth degree, the highest honor of Columbian Knighthood, was conferred on a class of 150 last Sunday at Columbus, Ohio.Representatives from all parts of Kansas were in Topeka last Sunday to witness the conferring of Knighthood on seventy-five new members.Archbishop Christie helped make the organization of the council at Salem, Ore., memorable by the delivery of a stirring and patriotic speech.With a net gain of 2,200 members, the largest ever made in one year,

the order in Massachusetts is now enjoying the most successful period of its history.Great preparation is being made for the semi-annual exemplification and initiation at Spokane, when seventy-five will receive the degrees.
It is expected that the Right Rev.
A. F. Schinner, first Bishop of Spokane, will be the principal speaker.CROWNED WITH SUCCESS.This week the Kentucky Knights of Columbus missionary movement scored another success at Bedford, one of the Powee Valley missions in charge of Rev. Father E. W. Boes, where the Rev. J. J. Devery, a Paul-ist Father from New York, has been holding a mission for non-Catholics.
Father Devery's sermons and lectures are on the most vital subjects of Catholic belief and practices. They are absolutely free from all controversy, being only positive statements of what the Catholic church teaches, accompanied by the necessary proofs.
The question box was a prominent feature in the lectures and brought to many a better understanding of the Catholic religion. From Sunday, June 7, to June 14, Father Devery will be at Eminence, another mission attended by the Rev. Father Boes. The subjects of his discourses will be "Mortal Sin," "The Confession," "The Christian Home," "The Lord's Supper," "The Judgment,"
"God's Mercy for Sinners" and "Why I Am a Catholic."SUDDEN DEATH.While on her way to mass early Sunday morning Mrs. Katherine Dorsey, wife of William Dorsey, 631 Illinois avenue, Jeffersonville, was suddenly stricken with heart trouble and expired before medical assistance reached her. For thirty-five years Mrs. Dorsey was an active worker in St. Augustine's church and was widely known in Jeffersonville. Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Dorsey, and three sons, William Dorsey, John Dorsey and Craig Dorsey, all of whom reside in Jeffersonville. William Craig, a brother of Mrs. Dorsey, resides at McKee's Rock, Pa., and was notified by wire of his sister's death. Her funeral took place Tuesday. Rev.
Father Halpin officiating at the solemn obsequies.LONG ROAD TRIP.The Colonels play at Columbus again this afternoon and tomorrow, then jumping to Minneapolis for the first games of their Western series, and from thence on will play every team in the league before returning home, which will be June 30. Now that the pitchers showed a decided improvement this past week many believe the team will repeat their former road performance and come home with more victories than losses, their stay at home being one of the most disastrous in many seasons. In spite of the disappointment of many defeat the fans are greatly enthused over the work of Severoid, whose all around ability was easily the feature. Ingerton, Osborne, Burch and McLarry also deserve special mention.CATHOLIC FEDERATION.The regular monthly meeting of the Louisville Federation of Catholic Societies will be held next Thursday night at the Catholic Woman's Club, 615 West Walnut street, when all friends of the delegates will be welcome. This meeting will be especially interesting, from the fact that the Rev. Father Oscar Ackermann, D. C. L., pastor of St. Philip Neri's church, will deliver an address on "Socialism," a subject on which he is well qualified to speak. Father Ackermann has a perfect knowledge of the workings of Socialism in Europe and the evils resulting therefrom. Dr. Peter S.
Ganz, the President, will also read an original paper on "The Church and Science." A large gathering is looked for.GRADUATING EXERCISES.Graduation exercises will be held at Ursuline Academy Tuesday afternoon, June 16, in St. Martin's Hall, Shelby and Gray streets. The graduates will be as follows: Academic department, Miss Stevenson, Cecilia Birke, Ottilia Schwartz and Doris Menz; commercial department,
Dorothy Hicker, Margaret Lutz,
Benita Klug, Ethel Nitt, Mary
Henry, Mary Greene, Beale Bayens

What the Club Plan Is And What It Means to You

The Club Plan is an extended payment plan instituted purely and simply for the convenience of our patrons who wish to buy Household Goods, such as Furniture, Carpets, Rugs, etc.

When you join the Club Plan you are asked to pay 3 per cent of the amount of your purchases for joining; for instance

The membership fee on a $25.00 purchase would be 75c.

The membership fee on a $50.00 purchase would be $1.50.

The membership fee on greater purchases would of course be in proportion.

You are then asked to pay 10 per cent. of your total purchase as the first payment. For instance, on a $25.00 purchase you pay $2.50 down in addition to the membership fee, making a total of $3.25. The goods are then delivered to you and you arrange to pay the balance in small weekly or monthly payments.

When you consider that goods bought on the Club Plan are purchased at our cash prices—whether special or regular—you will more clearly see that our membership fee is nothing in comparison with the additional cost installment houses place on their goods for the privilege of time payments.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, RUGS, HOUSE FURNISHINGS AND OTHER HOUSEHOLD GOODS ARE SOLD ON THE CLUB PLAN.

Any further information regarding the Club Plan will be cheerfully given by our salespeople or at the Credit office on the fifth floor.

AFTER YEARS

Memory of Right Rev. Andrew Byrne Is Still Held in Benediction.

His Early Labors in Arkansas as First Bishop of Little Rock.

Remains Rest in a Crypt Under Vestibule of the New Cathedral.

WAS BORN IN NAVAN, IRELAND

By James A. Rooney.
Wednesday, June 10, marks the fifty-second anniversary of the death of the first Bishop of Little Rock, Ark., the Right Rev. Andrew Byrne. Trained in a long experience in missionary life under the great Bishop England, he was a man of saintly bearing, majestic mien and noble presence; a giant in stature but kind and frank in manner and simplicity personified; unequalled as an orator and in his time by far the best speaker in Arkansas; just the man to conquer prejudice and win universal respect. Beloved of God and man, his memory is still held in benediction.

He was born in Navan, Ireland, December 5, 1802, and studied under the celebrated Father Eugene O'Reilly. When eighteen years of age he volunteered to accompany Bishop England to Charleston and he continued his studies under that great prelate, who ordained him November 11, 1827, and trained him in his work of a missionary in North and South Carolina until 1836. Then we find him in New York as pastor of St. James' and the Nativity, and he was who in 1842 transferred the old Carroll Hall into St. Andrew's church, naming it for his patron saint.

It was then that he was selected as the first Bishop of Little Rock, and with the Right Rev. William Quarter, first Bishop of Chicago, and the Right Rev. John McCloskey, first Bishop of Albany and later the first American Cardinal, he was consecrated by Bishop Hughes in old St. Patrick's Cathedral on March 10, 1844.

The diocese of Little Rock was established November 23, 1843, comprising the State of Arkansas, the Cherokee and the Choctaw nations in the then ill-defined Indian Territory and parts of the Louisiana Purchase. Though the country had been visited by such missionaries as Bishop Dubourg, Bishop Rosati and the priests of the Congregation of the Mission from the "Fratres," Missouri, as well as Father Richard Bolo, Bishop Byrne found few priests, scarce a dozen Catholic families in Little Rock and only 700 Catholics in his entire diocese.

He brought with him Fathers Corry, of Albany, and Francis O'Donohue, of Troy, and later he secured the services of Father Healy and Father John O'Reilly, also Fathers Patrick O'Reilly and John Bagan from Maynooth and Father Martin from All Hallows, the latter three of whom he ordained himself. He purchased ground and built an imposing frame Cathedral at Little Rock and modest structures in various parts of the diocese. But he felt the great need of teachers and on February 6, 1851, he welcomed a band of Sisters of Mercy from Naas, Ireland, and installed them in his own house next to the Cathedral.

They were Mother M. Teresa O'Farrell, Sisters M. Agnes Green, M. de Sales O'Keefe and M. Stanley. With eight postulants who had sailed from Ireland in the ship John O'Toole with 300 emigrants. They opened a school, which had at once thirty-five pupils, mostly non-Catholics. Bishop Byrne then bought an abandoned Protestant church and transformed it into St. Mary's Academy and it was soon filled. He also established a convent of the Sisters in Fort Smith on the border of the Indian Territory on ground that had been the headquarters of Gen. Zachary Taylor during the Mexican war. This was destroyed by fire December 3, 1875, but was rebuilt on a larger scale. He also established the Sisters at Helena, where he purchased the fine estate of Col. Biscoe and there St. Catherine's Academy was opened.

But the war of the rebellion came and Arkansas was devastated. Years of unbroken toil had undermined the Bishop's rugged constitution and he was ordered to Helena for the benefit of his health. He went there in February, 1862, and lived in a cottage in the convent garden until June 10, when he expired and his body laid at rest in the convent cemetery. There it remained for nineteen years and until his successor, Bishop Fitzgerald, had it removed with befitting ceremony to a crypt under the vestibule of the new Cathedral in November, 1881.—Copyrighted.

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC
Epileptic Fits.
Goldsboro, N. C., April, 1912.
Since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I had no more epileptic fits since the spring of 1911, and in June I began to work again. Before that time every body was afraid to give me work, because I had fits nearly every day in a few years, but now they all want me to work for them, because they know me and see how I am now. The Tonic cannot praise it enough. Walter Heard.
Wonderful!
Grandview, R. I., Wash., Aug. 1912.
I had epileptic fits every two or three weeks since 18 years, of which doctors could not cure me, but since I took Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I had no attacks in two years and feel well so long as I take the Tonic. Mrs. J. S. Griffin.

Fletcher the following as the only Catholics in the city at that time: Major Anthony Brockhole, William Douglas, John Gooley, Christine Lawrence, Thomas Howarding, John Cavalier, John Pate, John Fenny and Philip Cunningham.—Copyrighted.

PAVILION POPULAR.

Riverview Park has attracted large crowds every afternoon and evening this week and the children find there the ideal spot for their amusement. The dancing pavilion has proven highly popular and the floor has been thronged every evening. Schoen's orchestra furnishing the very latest dance music. Col. Simons has been furnishing vaudeville that pleases his patrons, every number being meritorious. The "Spotless Kitchen" is also coming in for its share of the patronage, as the music can be plainly heard there. The programme for next week is an excellent one and will present several new and good attractions. Riverview being accessible by two lines of cars, it should this year score the greatest success in its history.

HIBERNIAN PICNIC.

The County Board, A. O. H., has made arrangements to give the annual picnic of the order at Phoenix Hill Park on Tuesday, July 21, and County President W. J. Connelly has apportioned the work as follows: Division 1, gate and tickets; Division 2, refreshments; Division 3, har and checks; Division 4, dancing hall. The following are the General Committee of Arrangements: Walter J. Cielak, Dan O'Keefe, Matt J. O'Brien and John J. Barry.

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

Borings for coal seams are being carried out in the Ballyjamesduff district.

William Walshe, of Ballynoe, has been appointed Magistrate for the Conna district.

Westmeath County Council has accepted the tender for the building of a new Court House at Athlone.

The death is announced of William Staples, of Naas, a prominent figure in the commercial life of Kildare.

The death of J. Cahill, of Listowel, has caused much regret throughout North Kerry and much sympathy with his young family.

Taking the name in religion of Sister Frances Teresa, Miss Julia O'Higgins, of Dungarvan, has been received into the Presentation Order at Castleland.

The death took place at Ballydurn of Mrs. O'Connell, mother of the Rev. W. J. O'Connell, of the Cathedral, Waterford. She was in her eighty-fourth year.

Father Patrick Moran has been appointed administrator of Liscahan to replace Father Fahy, who has been appointed President of St. Mary's College, Galway.

P. J. O'Loughlin, of Mullingar, has been appointed Assistant Surveyor for the Castlebar district by the Cavan County Council. There were numerous applications.

There are now about 600 members in the Ballina Corps of the Irish Volunteers. The Volunteers were granted the use of the Workhouse grounds for drilling purposes.

The death is announced, at the Limerick Convent of Mercy, of Sister Ita (Miss Rita Connolly). She was a native of the county and a relative of Rev. S. J. Connolly, St. John's.

Rev. James Craddock, of St. Nicholas church, Galway, has been appointed to Oughterard. Rev. P. Davia, the popular President of St. Mary's College, succeeds Father Craddock.

John McLoughlin, of Abascoagh, Ballinasloe, is now 108 years, and he still makes himself useful about the place. Thomas Jackson, 106, and Mrs. Dowling, 104, also live in the district.

The Most Rev. Dr. Higgins, Auxiliary Bishop of Tuam, has consecrated a magnificent hall at Caherlisterane church, presented by Thomas J. Roche, of Philadelphia, a native of the parish.

On returning to the meetings of the Coleraine Guardians and Rural Council after a long illness, Miss Edith Macauland, of Garvagh, was greeted with prolonged applause by the members present.

James Doran, of Newry, who was carting stones from Sheepbridge, and who was found lying on the Rathfriland road in a serious condition, succumbed to his injuries at Windsor Hill Hospital.

Much regret is felt throughout the County Kilkenny at the death of the Very Rev. P. M. F. Carr, O. C. C., at the age of eighty-one. Father Carr, who ministered in many parts of the world, was particularly identified with the Knocktopher house of the order, and was beloved by all who had the privilege of meeting him.

FONTAINE FERRY.

Fontaine Ferry's big sanitary swimming pool will be thrown open to the public today. Probably nowhere in the world is there a swimming pool of such large dimensions, or conducted under so strictly sanitary conditions as the one erected at "The Park Beautiful" last year. It is the intention of the management to enter even more than ever this season to women and children patrons. Everything that can add to their comfort and safety and make bathing more enjoyable will be given close attention. Now that Market street has been repaired and the street cars are running through without causing any inconvenience, there will be nothing to hinder taking advantage of a morning "dip." For the coming week's attractions at the park's vaudeville show Manager Harry Bilger offers a big comedy bill that is sure to prove a banner one this season. Natiello and his hand will provide another and varied programme for the free concert.

REMOVAL.

The Rogers Church Goods Company, now located on Jefferson street, has secured a long lease on the building at 129 South Fourth street, and will move there July 1. This will give the company enlarged quarters and increased facilities for its growing business and handling everything in the church goods line.

EXPIRES IN JULY.

On July 7 next will expire the time limit given by the French Government in their law of July, 1904, which prohibits any religious congregation from teaching in France. Whether contemplative or active, all the women's communities in France are expected to be ruthlessly dissolved.
